A tree, the world —
A leaf, Oak Hills.
The stem is hours of classes
And study . . . every schoolday of the year.
The veins, after school clubs and activities.
All are composed of atoms,
Students and teachers
Supporting the structure . . .
Individuals . . . and intricate in themselves.
The leaf as a whole
Is like one large design
A unique pattern . . .
A design never created before
And never to be duplicated . . .
Is now
The year of 1968-69.

STUDENT LIFE

The sound of a gavel calls a meeting to order. Excited students cheer as a basket is scored. Music blares and lights flash. The hum of friendly voices and the ring of laughter sounds through the halls. A repetition of sights and sounds takes place each day.

Repetition is what makes up a school year. Repetition which would lapse into monotony if it weren't for the clubs, projects, games and the little everyday incidents of school life. The year may pass slowly while you're living it, but looking back on it, it seems to have passed too fast.

The freshman year is a time for newness, a new beginning and new friends. The sophomore year cements these beginnings and friends. A Junior feels he is really a part of the school at last. The Senior year is a year of reflection, some regret, some anxiety and fear of the future; but mainly relief to have gotten through the last four years. With graduation, a phase of life closes for every Highlander. The familiar sights and sounds of each day lapse into one memory of Oak Hills.

Participation Marks Oak Hills Student

Although academics are stressed as being first and foremost in the minds of students, extra-curricular activities occupy the hours outside of class rooms. The interests of many Highlanders are met with clubs and sports events. Basketball games, drama club, Hi-Y, swim meets — all of these are a part of life at Oak Hills High School. The halls are alive Mondays before school with roaming bands of Pep Club members putting up spirit signs, typewriters clicking on until evening in the Tartan room, and plans for the Prom being discussed in room six. These activities are as much a part of Oak Hills as daily classes.

Homecoming Activities Foster Spirit

ABOVE: Nancy Paul claims her throne on the queen's float surrounded by her court (l to r) N. Schunk, S. Mercurio, S. Ferguson, P. Day, J. Martz, N. Sumner.

Homecoming is a day when school spirit is built and exhibited. A pep rally in the morning featured skits to show the school spirit of the faculty and classes. Originally decorated floats were displayed in the parade before the game and later during the half-time show. GAA added its own version of the theme "Fantasy and Fairy Tales" with their float entitled "The Poison Apple Defeat." Winner of the floats was announced at halftime. Juniors captured first place with "The Real Pecos Bill" and Seniors second with "Highlanders Stalk the Cowboys." The Freshmen's "Old Woman in a Shoe" introduced a new look in floats while sophomores entered "Fractured Fairytales." The climax of the evening was when Nancy Paul was crowned Homecoming Queen of '68-69.

Highlander Spirit soared as students rallied before the game to give the team an enthusiastic send-off.

Hootenanny, Dance Mark Homecoming

"Never Never Land" was the title of this year's Homecoming dance. Contrary to tradition, the dance was held on the Saturday following the game. Particular emphasis was placed on honoring the Class of '68 and bringing out the real meaning of Homecoming. Teachers were encouraged to talk about school spirit and Oak Hills' Alma Mater was taught in classes. Added highlights to the Homecoming festivities were a Parade featuring the band, Oakettes, Majorettes, floats and candidates, a pep rally before the game and a Hootenanny afterwards, at which students furnished their own music. Highlanders gave Homecoming a new breath of spirit this year.

Mick Fiorini Reigns As King Football

The theme of the 1968-69 King Football dance was "Catch A Falling Star." Decorations, in accordance with the theme, were based on outer space. The dance, sponsored by Pep Club was held to honor the twenty-three senior gridsters who were the candidates for the title. The high point of the evening was the announcement of the '68-69 King Football, Mick Fiorini. Melody Lowther, Pep Club President, crowned Mick and presented him with a five dollar gift certificate. When asked his feeling about being named to the throne, Mick answered, "Being chosen King Football is a school honor, but since the voting is done by those who attend the dance, the significance seems slighter because of the chance of popularity votes." The King Football dance provided an exciting end to the football season.

"Red Shoes" Dances Across OH

This year's fall play was "Red Shoes," a story of a young girl orphaned in her teens. Karen is overcome with the politeness of Snogg and the wit of Jemmo. She decides to run away with Snogg to become a ballerina. Late in the play Snogg reveals his true self. It seems too late for Karen to return to her newly found grandmother when Snogg shows his true intentions. If it weren't for the lover hero Nels, Karen would be doomed, but as all heroes do, Nels saves the day and they live happily ever after.

Playing leads in the production of "Red Shoes" were Terry Cranert, as the wicked Gypsy Snogg Robin Croker, a freshman, portrayed Karen; Bill Keeton, Nels; Richard Burton, the burgermaster. The infamous and delightful Jemmo was played by Leslie Lalosh. Two new people to attain parts in the fall production were Sally Sjodall, grandmother, and Toby Glandorf, the shoemaker. All in all "Red Shoes" was a delightful production.

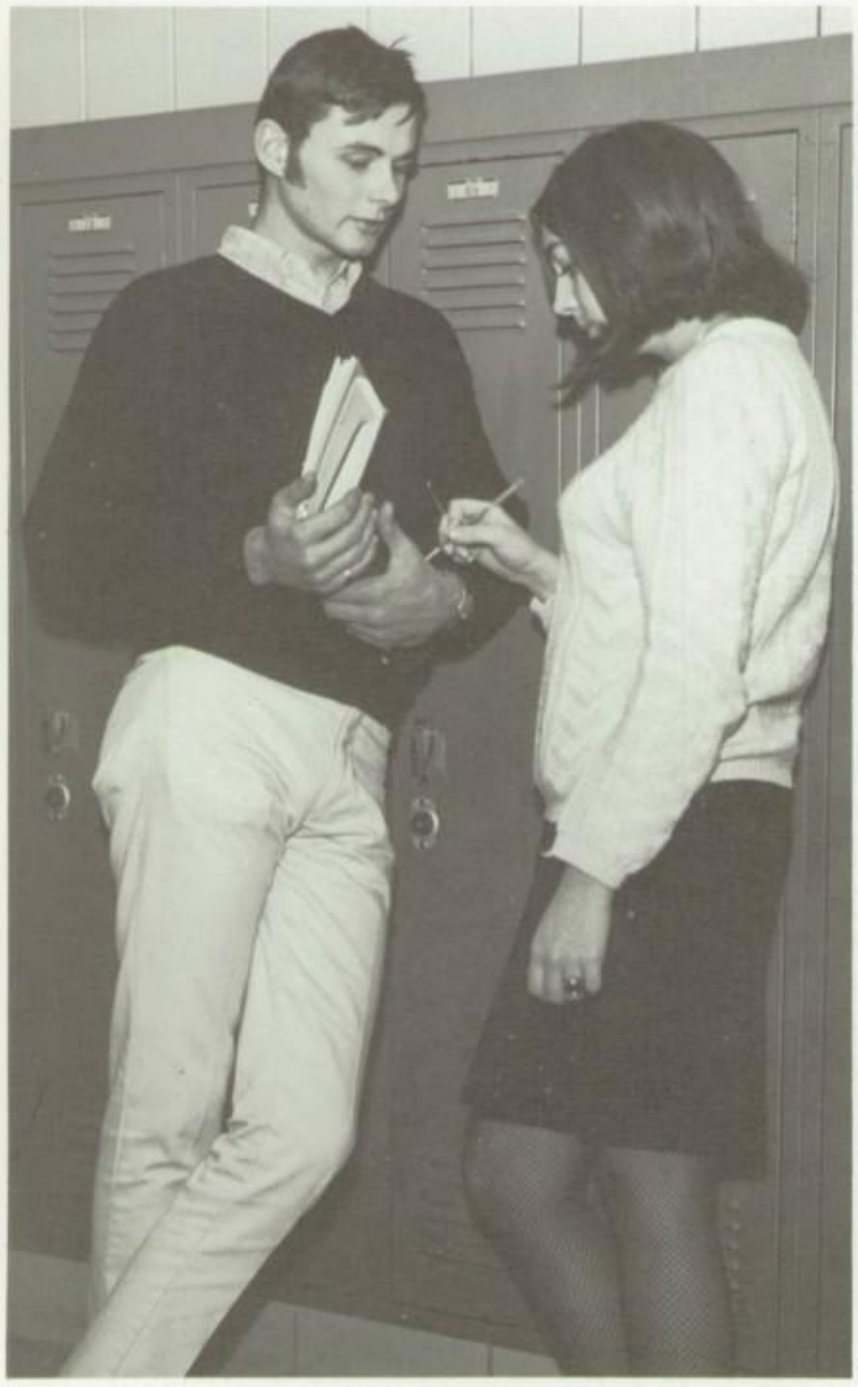
Dating Proves to Be One of the



Although football and basketball always attract large crowds at Oak Hills, the most popular sport is undoubtedly dating. The dating season, unlike other sports seasons, extends all year around. The rules are flexible and often times are made by the participants in the sport. The only referees are, perhaps, parents. Not limited to a court or field, dating extends to movie theaters, plays, dances and concerts. This sport is practiced in the halls, over the phone at night and, an indirect approach, through friends. Dating has a larger participation than any varsity, reserve, or intramural program at Oak Hills. Competition is even more furious than any challenge provided by rival teams in basketball. Dating is also perhaps the oldest sport known to man. What is the reason for its longevity? The secret of dating is the fun, companionship and the thrill of competition it provides for its fans.

An Evening of Tragedy And Melodrama

This year, departing from the customary three one act plays, the Oak Hills Drama Club presented cuttings from Shakespeare's "Hamlet" in two acts and the one act play "Dirty Work at the Crossroads." Hamlet starred Terry Cranert in three roles — as Hamlet, the King, and the Voice of the Ghost. Ophelia was portrayed by Robin Croker, Queen Gertrude by Judy Kreft, and Truth by Janie Hackworth. The cast of "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" included Bill Keeton, Val Lampe, Richard Burton, Barb Brigham, Jack Holt, and other Oak Hills players.

Sweetheart Dance Honors Juniors

"Love is Blue" was the theme of this year's Sweetheart Dance. The dance, given by the sophomores in honor of the Junior Class was held February twenty-first. A combination of blue and purple was used to decorate the cafeteria where the dance was held. Blue hearts around the door and blue lighting softened the cafeteria and heart-shaped table decorations completed the theme. Jill Lampe and Jan (Satch) Sander were chosen as Sweetheart Queen and King by those attending the dance. Candidates for Sweetheart King and Queen were nominated from each Junior homeroom, then the list was narrowed down by a preliminary ballot. The King and Queen were elected and crowned at the dance. The Sophomore class can be proud of their efforts in making Sweetheart a success and can count it as good experience for their work on the prom next year.

Based on the votes of those attending the dance Bob Siekmann was named the new King Basketball and crowned by Pep Club president, Melody Lowther. Bob took his throne complete with crown and gym shoes. Pep Club sponsored the turnabout dance with the theme "Romance on the Rebound" fitting in with both the reversed position of the girls and the guys and the honoring of the basketball players.

Scots Concerned With Hat Day, SC

Student Council sponsors several projects each year, but this year was different in that more projects were initiated which involved the cooperation of a greater number of students. Teacher's Recognition Day was an idea never before tried. Students actually took over the position and duties of their teachers and the administrators.

Hat Day was another successful SC oriented project. It featured a pep rally with DJ Larry Clark and a hat contest.

An important yearly activity of SC is the election of officers. Officers for next year are President — Skip Lancaster, Vice-President — Bob Schmitt, Secretary — Amy Osterhage, and Treasurer — Anne Menke. It's these activities that keep Oak Hills' Student Council and its members on the go.

Hours of Work Go to Make a Prom

Planning and making decorations for the Junior-Senior Prom is the biggest job in which the Junior Class is involved. India . . . a land of contrast. Modern cities replace the villages and new customs replace the ancient ones. And the Night of the Production . . .

Dancing, singing and comedy marked this year's Best of Oak Hills. It was patterned after NBC's number one show, Laugh-In and contained all the ingredients of the popular series. Highlanders presented a number one show themselves complete with all the famous characters and "one-liners". Portraying the cast of Laugh-In were Skip Lancaster, Mike Seipel, Rick Conner, Ray Rugg, Debbie Kacher and Linda Pearson. Individual acts ranged from Triple Drums by Dick Haffey, Alan Stone, and John Ellsworth to "Stewball" by the Carolina Ditch Diggers. Along with the individual acts were the traditional acts such as the number with the Oakette captains and two-year majorettes. The Oakettes also offered several numbers. Scenery which consisted of flats decorated with one-liners also complimented the theme

FACULTY

This year the professional teaching staff of Oak Hills High School was the largest in the history of the school. The staff was divided into eleven departments in order to better organize the students' curriculum. The head of each department organized teacher activities and study aids.

An excellent counseling service augmented the teachers in their effort to educate the student body. Composed of five counselors, four guided in solving immediate problems, while the fifth, Mrs. Roberts, prepared students for their college entrance and in their scholarship applications.

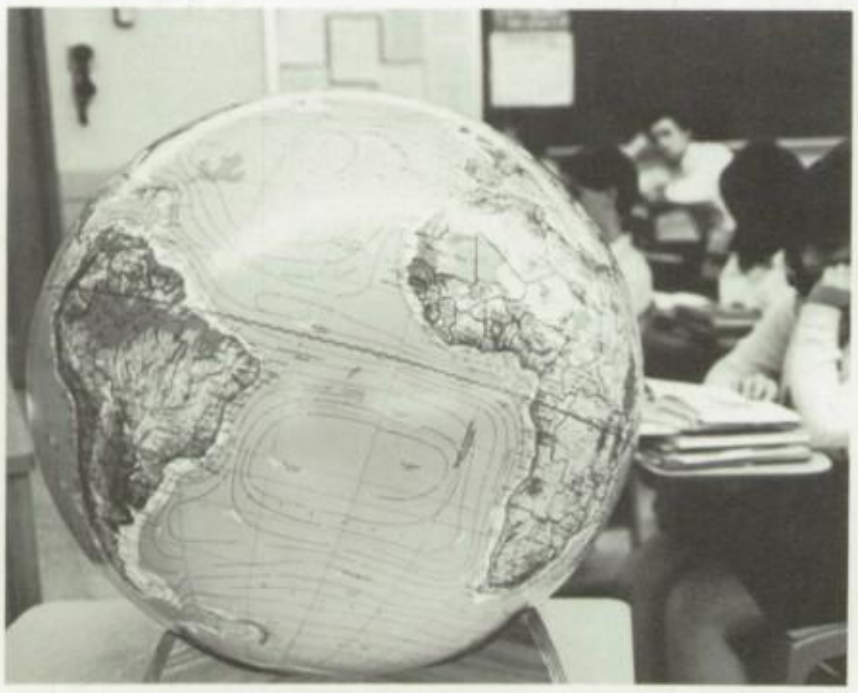
Social Studies Has Education Seminar



The 1968-69 Social Studies Department under the direction of Mr. Irving Hellman sponsored several unique activities. During October many committees worked to organize the mock election which was held on November 5. A large part of the student body was involved in the actual election and political rally. The Social Studies Department also sponsored an education seminar for all the senior classes. Outside speakers talked on the different phases of our nation's educational system.

Mr. Thomas Hartley

Dedication to ideals, courage, pride, determination, and love are abstractions which can be found in any dictionary. These same qualities can be easily over-looked or can go unrecognized in man — something of a paradox since these qualities belong essentially to mankind.

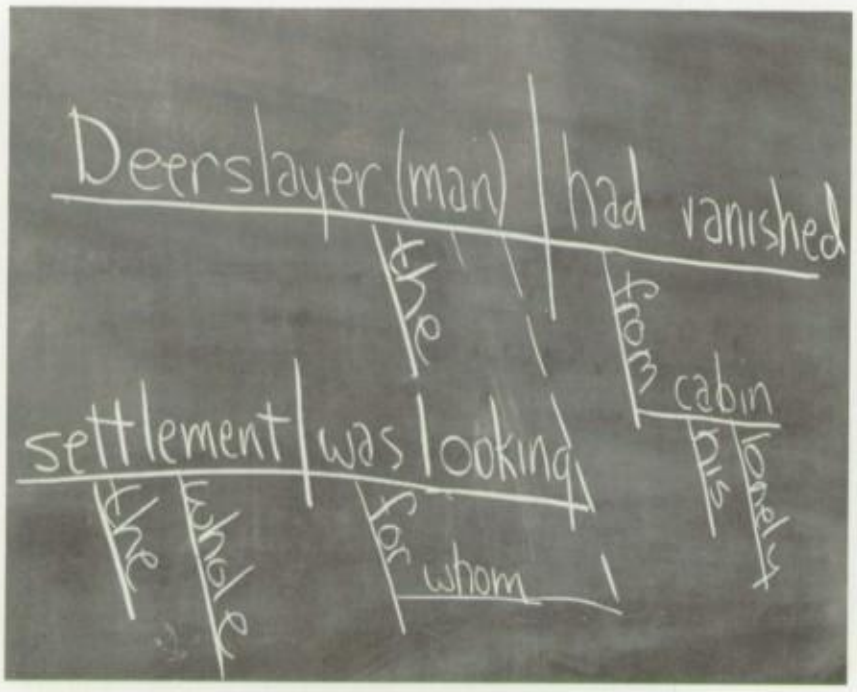
For the past seven years, students and faculty members of Oak Hills High School have lived with the embodiment of these virtues in the person of Mr. Thomas Hartley, Social Studies teacher. It is to him and the memory of his life that we dedicate this page.

Tom Hartley is an inspiration to all who knew him. He was an unassuming, courageous man who stoically accepted the circumstances which slowly but painfully took from him his health, the use of his legs, and eventually his life. His spirit, however, remained firm. He was determined to face each tomorrow as it came. It wasn't that he feared death, but that he loved life — his family and his friends.

It was with pride and a determination of spirit that Tom Hartley gave unselfishly of himself to his educational duties and to his fellow man in many ways after each of seven major operations, any of which could have proven fatal. His deep faith in God and devotion to his family gave him the strength to survive for seven years after he had been given three months to live. These seven years brought with them the fulfillment of seeing his son begin his formal education, the birth of his daughter, a deep understanding between himself and his wife, lasting friendships, and innumerable students being guided by his direction.

At a time when many people, young and old alike, question the values of life, Tom Hartley and all he believed in and worked for might shine forth as a beacon to help us see in the midst of what seems to be darkness. If the memory of his life aids just one person Tom Hartley will be satisfied.

English Students Visit Park's Playhouse



This year the English Department under the direction of Mr. Eugene Wagner was the largest of the academic departments and included eighteen teachers. During the 1968-69 school year the English Department was engaged in a varied curriculum including Speech and Dramatics and Journalism in addition to the regular English classes. Many English students of all grade levels added practical experience to their theoretical knowledge of drama by participating in group excursions to the Playhouse in the Park to see such plays as Shaw's St. Joan and Shakespeare's Comedy of Errors.

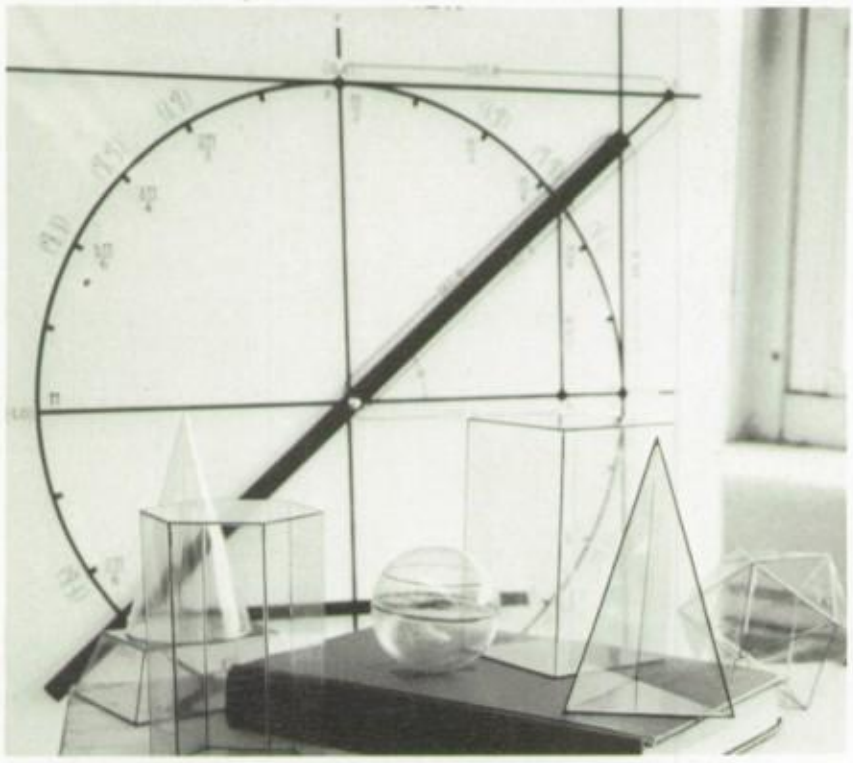
Mathematics — the Science of Symbols



The Math Department, headed by Mr. Paul Geiser, offers much to Highlanders interested in the language of science. Science Has Broad Range of Courses

The Science Department is one of the largest and most well equipped at Oak Hills High School. Mr. Eugene Poynter is the head of this department of twelve teachers. They give instruction in a broad and expanding field of natural and physical sciences ranging from chemistry to geology. Students learn through lectures, demonstrations, and actual experimentation. Opportunities are given to the students to build original projects and enter them in various science fairs. Several field trips have also been planned this year in order to give the students actual experience.

Business Ed. Offers C.O.E. Program

Business Education classes prepare the students for secretarial and managerial occupations. The students take such courses as typing, shorthand, business law, and bookkeeping. A personal typing course is even offered to juniors and seniors to provide them with adequate skill for college and personal use. To augment these courses Business Office Education and Cooperative Office Education courses are offered. B.O.E. is an intensified course to prepare juniors for C.O.E., which gives senior girls practical experience in the business world. Heading the staff of business education teachers is Mr. Nicholas Wolf.

Although there are only two Home Economics teachers, it is a very important subject. It prepares future housewives with emphasis on nutrition, fabric selection, and management. Through practical experience the students learn this difficult art. Every year the Betty Crocker Homemaker of the Year Award is given to someone who has excelled in the talent of homemaking. This year the winner was Ginny Weimer.

Industrial Arts Courses Develop Skill

Mr. Humphrey is the head of the Industrial Arts Department. Six faculty members teach these courses that include woodworking, mechanical drawing, graphic arts, general metals, engineering drawing, practical arts, electricity, and basic drafting. A Diversified Cooperative Training program is also offered to a limited number of senior boys. This is a vocational program that gives the students on-the-job experience.

Fine Arts is a broad term yet the department is made up of only five members. The courses of the Fine Arts give the students an opportunity to express themselves freely through many media, as painting, sculpturing, singing, or playing an instrument. All of these forms of art deepen a great appreciation for the Fine Arts and give pleasure to the artist and the beholder.

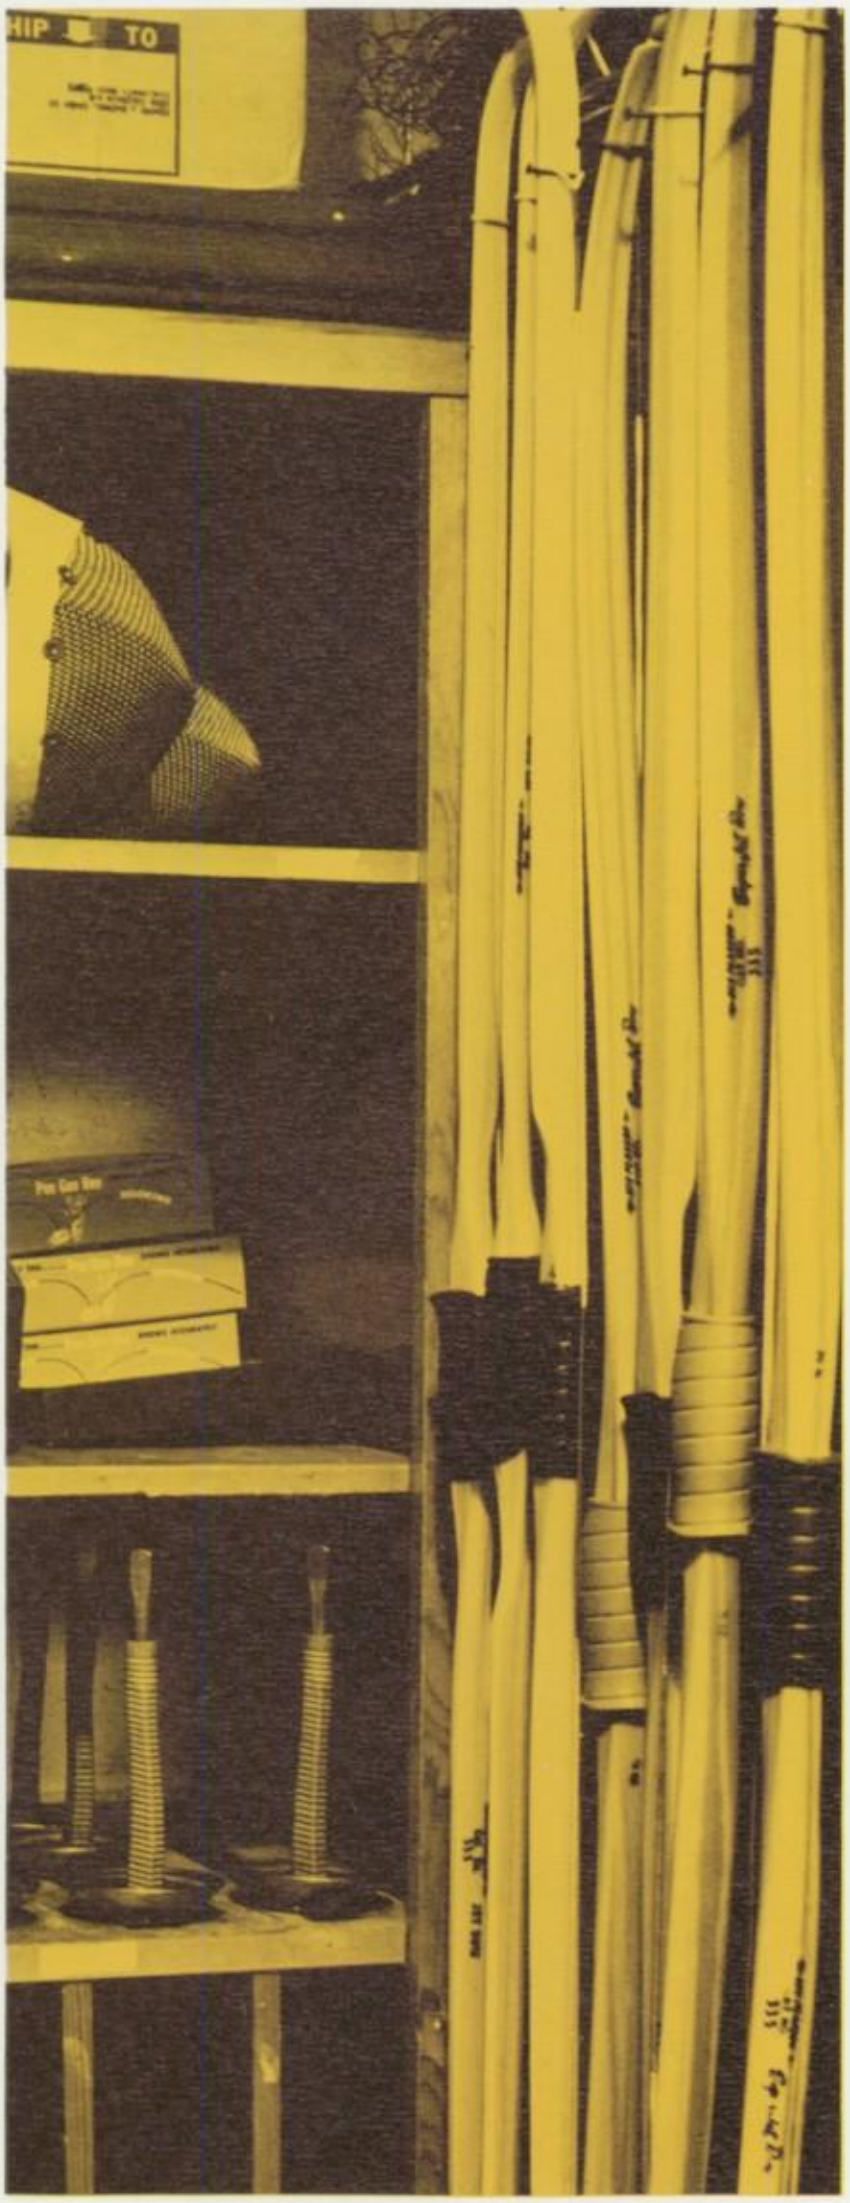
Physical Education Balances Academics



Limited facilities and overcrowding were the reasons why physical education classes were limited to freshmen and sophomores this year. Students are given instruction in basketball, volleyball, swimming, and gymnastics, with the aid of the well-equipped gymnasium and athletic field. Highlanders are also given a course in personal hygiene. Physical education teachers spend additional time after school coaching and supervising varsity teams and G.A.A. sports.

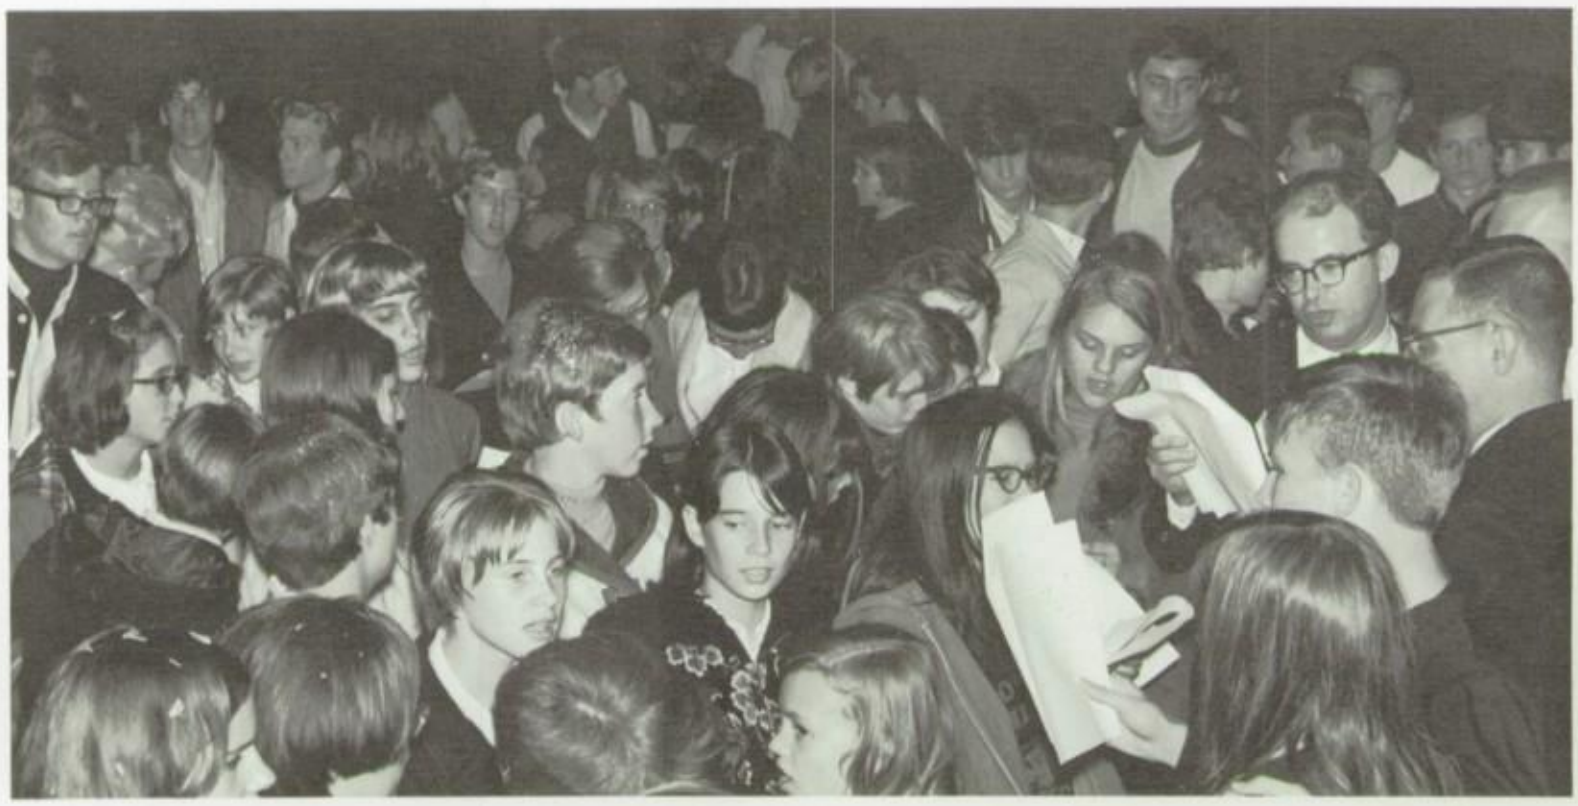
Organizations

In the 1968-69 school year there were forty-two existing clubs at Oak Hills High School. Some of the well-known ones are American Field Service, Girl's Athletic Association, Future Teachers of America, Varsity O, and the language clubs. Others such as Hi-Y and Future Business Leaders of America have recently been organized. These clubs achieve student unity and a better student-teacher relationship, also they provide student participation in the administration of the school. Some provide funds for scholarships while others promote better school spirit. Students volunteer their time and effort to the betterment of the school through these clubs. Usually they receive little in return but deserve great honor and respect.

Sophomore Council member Barb Daffin added atmosphere to the Homecoming theme by passing out balloons.

Student Council Has Active Year

Student Council is a medium of communication between the student body and the administration. Representatives from all the classes are elected to voice the general opinions and views of the students. At meetings the dress code, current student problems, and new projects are discussed.



New this year, Council sponsored a hootenanny after the game, then a dance the next night.

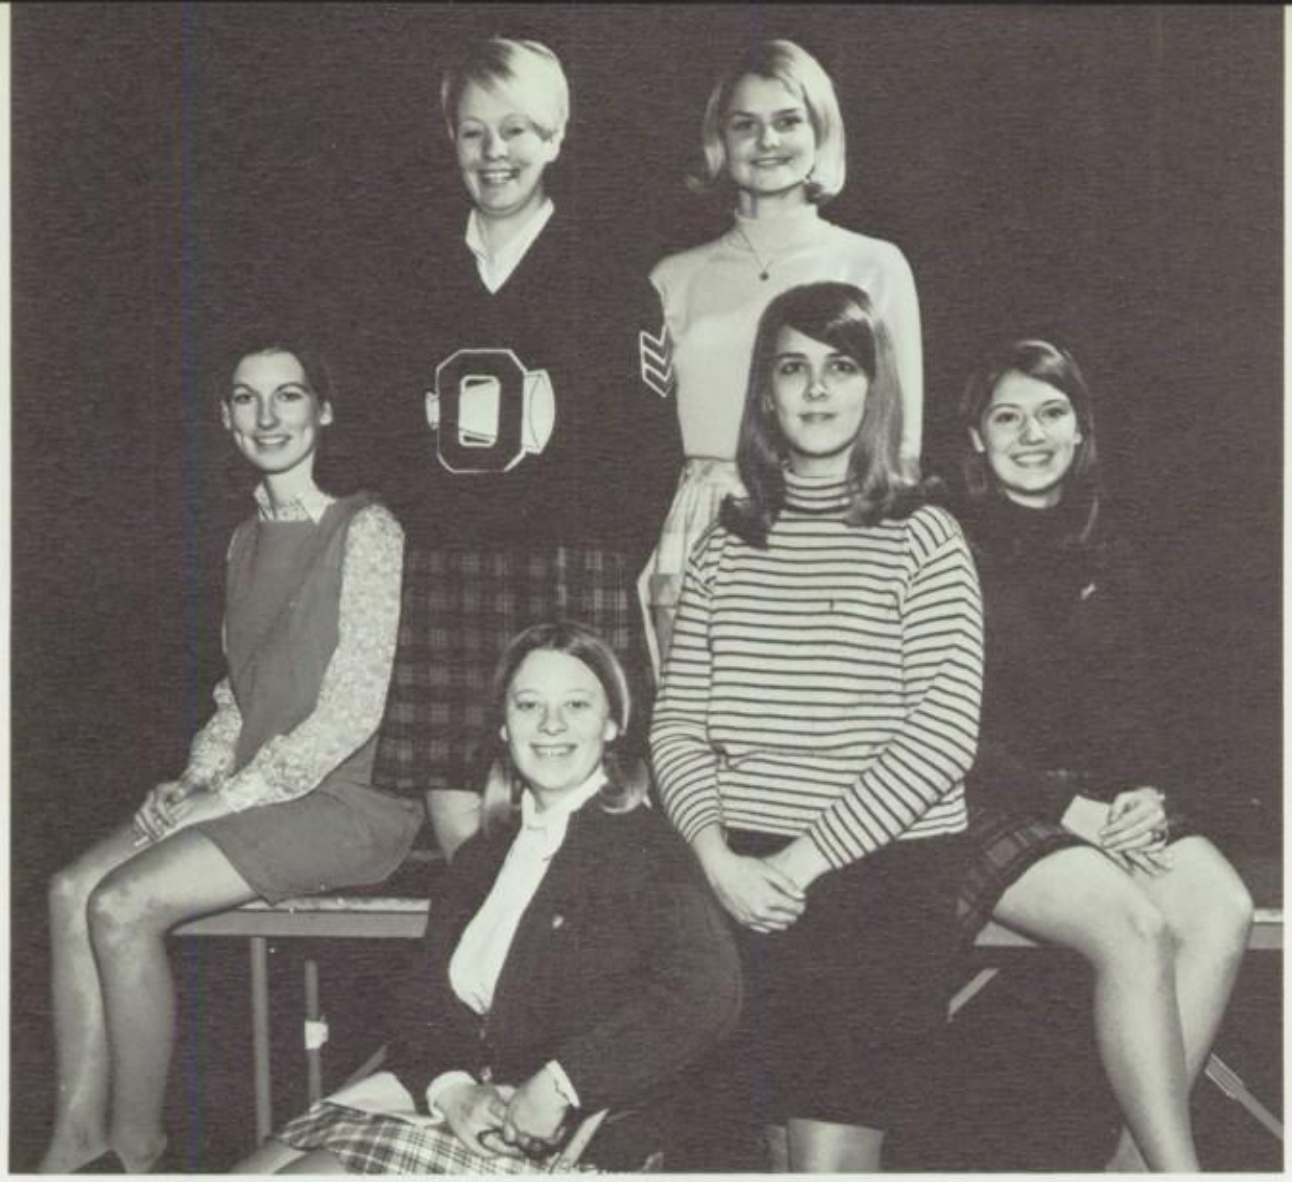
Presiding over all business of the Student Council meetings held every week is President Paul Nickerson.

In charge of Homecoming and various other events is Vice-President Sandi Ferguson.

LEFT: Keeping count of all Council money is Treasurer Sue Nixon. CENTER: Recording the year is Historian Alice Davenport. RIGHT: Taking minutes at the meetings is the job of Secretary Diane Schwander.



Committee heads are (FRONT) P. Buede, (Elections), G. Hollmeyer (Social Functions), G. Ronald (Foreign Student), (BACK) J. Martz, (Public Relations), N. Sumner (Safety), and J. Lampe (Constitution).

Active Leadership By Student Council Brings Innovations

This year's Student Council, led by President Paul Nickerson, Vice President Sandi Ferguson, Secretary Diane Schwander, Treasurer Sue Nixon, and Advisor Mr. Scherer, set out to prove itself to the student body through such projects as Candy Machines in the cafeteria, Jerry's Day, and a Spring Carnival run by all the clubs. One of Council's most successful activities was Teacher Recognition Day. This was the faculty's time off as chosen students became administrators and teachers for the day. Through these efforts it was hoped that all the students and organizations would take more interest in the school and Student Council.

Greatly enjoying one of the new Council-sponsored candy machines are Joe Whinghter and Jay Piper.

A.F.S. Offers Look At Foreign Life

This year the theme for the American Field Service, better known as A.F.S., is "Bridge to Understanding." Guided by Miss Slater, students meet a definite goal, an attempt to aquaint American youth with the youth of other countries to create better world understanding. Their main project is Pledge Day to raise money for foreign student exchange.

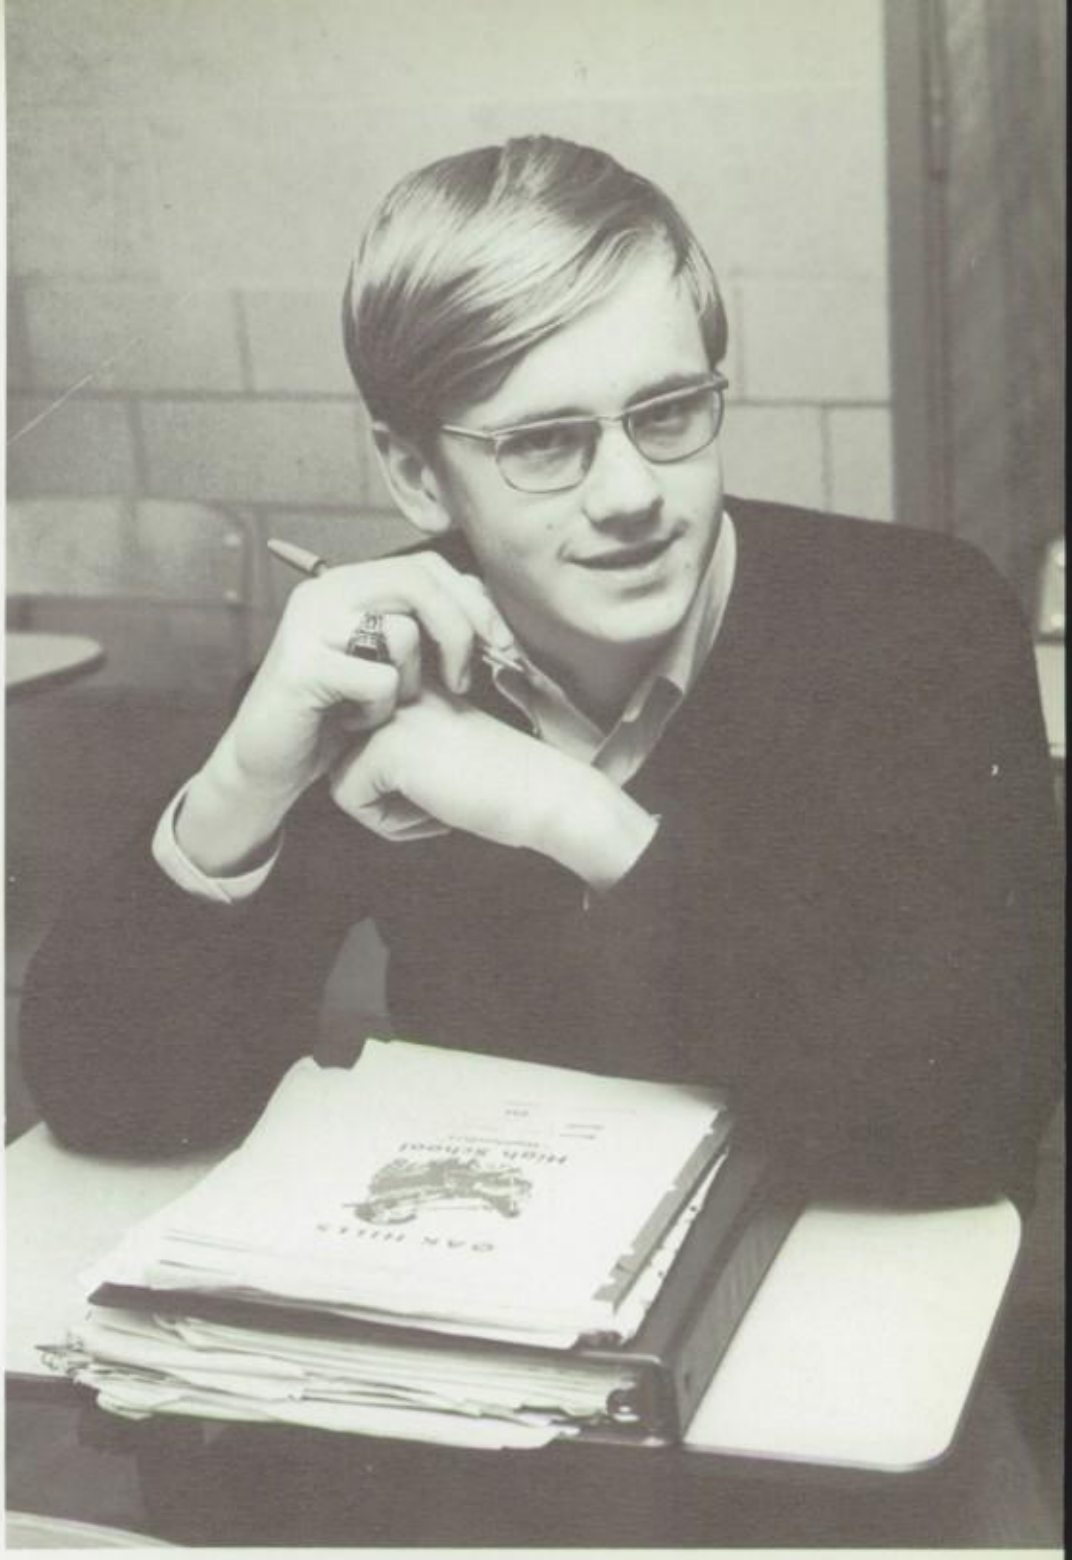
A.F.S. member Gail Ronald was Oak Hills' representative to England for the summer of 1968.

The Many Faces of Claes Hagman

Claes Hagman, foreign exchange student from Sweden to Oak Hills, showed the similarity between American and Swedish teenagers in many ways. He drinks Cokes in both places and rates our hamburgers just a little bit better.

He showed his interest in sports by joining both the football and cross country teams. In football he introduced to the Highlanders the soccer style of kicking for the extra points. In track and cross country he ranked among our best stars.

Scholastically, Claes experienced his first term paper this year.



Often comments from Claes about his Swedish ideas in class give his fellow students new insights.

Breaking many cross country records, Claes brought honors to Oak Hills.

Playing football at Oak Hills was a new experience for Claes. He proved to be a valuable asset to the team however. Besides kicking many extra points he kicked a thirty yard field goal.

Numerous Activities Offered by G.A.A.

The members of G.A.A. this year totaled over three hundred. The sports offered this year included hockey, basketball, volleyball, swimming, and softball, which are all major sports, and tennis, badminton, golf, gymnastics, ping pong, and bowling, which are minor sports. The girls raised money through their dance held on January 3, dues, bake sales, and by selling candy, sweatshirts, and programs at basketball games. There were honor teams in all the major sports which played different teams all over the city.

As president of G.A.A. Barb Borgmann has primary responsibility of directing the organizations activities.

Pep Club advisor Mr. Hellman gives his views on all projects brought up by the club members.

Pep Club Builds Up School Spirit

Advised by Mr. Irving Hellman, Pep Club meets twice a month to promote school spirit. Pep Club supports Oak Hills athletic teams by sponsoring a pep bus to away football and basketball games, planning pep rallies, posting spirit signs in the halls, and teaching new cheers at meetings. This year Pep Club bought new outfits for the Varsity cheerleaders beside the traditional football sweaters. Other Pep Club activities include King Football, King Basketball, and the Fall Fashion show to introduce school events.

V. Letterman Team Up in Varsity O

Members of Varsity "O" can easily be recognized by the distinctive jackets and emblems they wear. Membership is restricted to varsity lettermen, and to retain their membership, must earn one and a half to two points per season, autumn, winter, and spring. To earn these points the boys help on the field, hold ropes at pep rallies and basketball games, or work in other school activities. Varsity "O" is advised by Mr. Shaut.

Varsity O members are (1st ROW) T. Knepper, D. Peters, M. Morganroth, M. May, D. Loewenstine, M. Fiorini, R. Bernard, D. Hurd, (2nd ROW) C. Hagman, K. C. Krug, P. Gerth, G. Martz, P. Bands Play Large Part of O.H. Life

Oak Hills is musically endowed with three bands: the fith bell band, Pep Band and Marching Band. Marching Band can be seen parading down the field at football games and participating in the St. Patrick's Day Parade, the Harvest Home parade, at Coney, and Miami University Band Day. Pep Band plays at home basketball games and pep rallies. This year money is being raised to buy new band uniforms. Contributions, Fish Fries every Friday during the Lenten season and the Las Vegas Happening have greatly contributed toward the goal of $10,000 needed to buy the uniforms.

Members of the Fifth Bell Band are (1st ROW) M. Patterson, K. Vonleuhrte, G. Freppon, P. Bedard, D. Gabbert, L. Hausfeld, K. Vonleuhrte, G. Freppon, P. Bedard, D. Gabbert, L. Hausfeld, A. Majorettes Lead Half Time Shows

The Varsity Majorettes practiced every Saturday and Wednesday. They have new jackets and uniforms this year as do many other athletic organizations. The majorettes promote school spirit by performing with the band at all games and parades in which the band plays.

Reserves Cheer for Team Victory

The Reserve cheerleaders this year were the first to wear the new uniforms of red culottes and saddles. They cheered for Reserve football and basketball games and this is the first year they cheered for Cross Country. The girls are selected by faculty judges and are sponsored by Pep Club.

At a time out the Reserves lead the crowd in a cheer to help arouse spirit.

Dramatic Club Has A Successful Year.

Dramatics Club is formed of two organizations, Thespians and Thalians. Dramatics Club offers an actor a chance to perform, and those interested in stage work a chance to show off their skills. All the club members donate their skills and efforts to help make such plays as "Red Shoes," an Evening of One Acts, and the "Man Who Came To Dinner" a great success. They also bring honor and pride to Oak Hills through their participation in speech and play contests throughout Ohio and the Tri-State Area.

Audio Visual and Home Ec. Provide Useful Experience.

The active interest in Home Economics that was demonstrated by many of the girls at Oak Hills resulted in the formation of the Home Economics Club. Advised by Miss Bichon and Mrs. Seitz, the girls learned about home life, and heard many speakers, including a model, beautician, and a representative from General Electric. The Home Economics Club also staged a fashion show and made gifts for the needy orphans.

The Audio-Visual Club is composed of students who give up time to care for the films and projectors at Oak Hills. Under the supervision of Mr. Hiles, these students keep the projection equipment functioning properly, show films, and finish a large portion of the primary paper work.

Helpers with the audio visual aides are (FRONT) E. Neeb, K. Schkabla, L. Fuell, A. Stone, J. Radel, T. Quinn, C. Adelsberger, E. Dunham, M. Seiple, S. Parker, S. Bedard, D. Sandlin, T. Creative Achievement Sought by Artists

Dave Bechtol and Sally Wessler help to mount pictures for the Christmas display.

Art Club, meeting every Tuesday, gives students a chance to be original, collect new ideas, and investigate the techniques of great artists by visiting museums and viewing films. The club contributes its talents to the school by the decoration of the main lobby at Christmas and the year-round display of student artwork in the halls. A special project this year was the hanging of original student paintings in the faculty dining room. To finance its many projects, the club holds an annual art sale.

Art Club celebrates its Christmas by decorating the lobby, part of the Highlander Christmas tradition.

Library Aides, Health Careers Gain Knowledge

Every day chosen students are seen busily working in the library. Advised by Mrs. Thompson, they work in every facet of library activities before school and during their study halls to help the library run smoothly.

Once a month junior and senior students interested in medicine meet with Mrs. Roberts. They listen to speakers from various fields of medicine and at the end of the year give a scholarship to some graduating club member going into the medical field.

Members of Health Careers are (SITTING) M. Bruestle, T. Casper, (STANDING) M. Irwin, P. Herman, M. Glatting, M. Keller, K. Meyer, K. Notz, V. Henthorne, and Mrs. Roberts (Adv.).

Bridge experts are J. Kovac, A. Page, J. Kovac, C. Andrew, Mr. Jennings (Adv.) and M. Phoniex.

This year's Chess Club consist of twenty-two members. Under the guidance of Mr. Wolf, they enter competitions in the Greater Cincinnati Chess League. The Chess teams consist of members each and are in standing for tournament trophies. Outstanding individuals are entered in a "singles" tournament at Oak Hills during March.

Bridge Club, now in its fourth year, is one of the smallest clubs existing at Oak Hills High School. At the moment Mr. Jennings, the club's advisor, is training its members in the hope of forming a team to represent Oak Hills in a competative Bridge League.

Choral Ensemble And B.O.E. Provide Unique Challenges For Highlanders

Choral Ensemble which is directed by Mr. Schierloh is a special section chosen from the members of Concert Choir. Besides the regular music, this section perform their own numbers. They have performed at the elementary schools in the Oak Hills district.

A secretarial career is the aim of students belonging to the Business Office Education organization; to this end they perform invaluable services for the faculty. These include running errands and typing dittos and letters. Their major fund-raising project of the year was selling Easter eggs.

Athletics

Throughout its ten year history, Oak Hills has set a pattern of consistent victory in its athletic events. The year 1968—1969 has continued this trend with outstanding performances in all sports. Led by the coaching staff — Don Coates, Athletic Director, Will Rutenschroer, Football, Frank Shaut, Wrestling, Yoshi Oyakawa, Swimming, and Steve Moore, Basketball, — Oak Hills copped league titles in Cross Country, Wrestling, Swimming, Basketball and Baseball. The school was again the recipient of the coveted "Enky" award, given each year by the Enquirer to the school with the best all-around sports program.

The desire to win and the talent to win are completely different, yet '68-'69 was the year Oak Hills had both. They combined to produce the best all-around record in our athletic history; when buoyed by the fantastic spirit of the student body (led by the Turtles), the 1968—1969 teams proved to be the greatest yet.

Highlanders Capture 9-1 Slate

ABOVE: Greg Francis' run is led by Denny Betz.

Led by senior tri-captains Ken Helton, Mick Fiorini, and Doug Gehring, the Highlanders fought to a nine and one overall record. Defeating five of their six league opponents, they bowed to only the Wyoming team in the Homecoming game. After starting the season with a generally inexperienced squad, Coach Will Rutenschoer molded his team into a successful one, with outstanding performances given by Gehring, Couch, both named to the South All-Stars by the Ohio Coaches Association, Richmond, who received a record twenty-seven passes, Fiorini, and Helton, all named HCSL All-Stars. Superb efforts were delivered by quarterback Al Spickard and halfback Roger Megee. Foreign exchange student Claes Hagman, in addition to his cross-country speeding, became the first kicking specialist in Oak Hills history. Aside from individual performances, the team combined for a great effort.

Assisted by a key block from Dan Couch (66) and a lead from Frank Voynovich (74), Kerry Clifton looks for an opening. Oak Hills continued its long-standing winning streak by again defeating Western Hills.

Oak Hills Captures 18-2 Record

The Oak Hills tournament jinx again struck in 1969. After soundly defeating Mariemont, 73-44, in the first game, our hopes for a state victory were dashed by neighborhood rival Elder in a heartbreaking defeat. Oak Hills ended the season with an 18-2 overall record, best in the city. High point of the year came with the Lincoln Heights contest; both teams had clinched their respective divisions and met to decide the H.C.S.L. championship. Howie Lowe's fine defensive showing held the Tiger's ace Mike Battle while Oak Hills' forwards Bob Seikmann, Gerry Smith, and later substitute pivot man Mike Basler gave their usual inspired offense. The game ended with an Oak Hills' victory, 63-46. Outstanding individual performances were delivered by all team members, led by senior forward Bob Seikmann. His 23.7 average was third in the city; he became the first Highlander ever to clear the 1000 point mark.

UNDERCLASS

The underclassmen of Oak Hills this year have proved themselves outstanding both academically and socially. The Freshman who are the last Freshman class to enter Oak Hills have been busily building up their treasury with the traditional candy sale, already anticipating the prom.

The Sophomore class's main project this year was the Sweetheart Dance, the theme of which was "Love Is Blue." They exhibited their school spirit with their participation in Homecoming and by providing slaves for the prom.

The Juniors supervised and maintained the concession stand during the fall to supplement their treasury. They displayed creativity and a will to work as they transformed the gymnasium into a twilight fantasy with their theme "India: Dusk to Dawn" for the 1969 Junior-Senior Prom.

These classes have their own characteristics and projects setting themselves apart from the others, wanting recognition when it has been earned. But the Underclasses also unify with the Seniors to make a compact whole so that as a part of Oak Hills they may all share in its glory.

EAGER Describes the Class of 1972.

SENIORS

The word to describe the class of '69 is spirit. The overcrowded bleachers and enthusiastic crowds give evidence that the Seniors have led Oak Hills to a victorious year in every sport. School records have been shattered in all aspects of athletics. The sporting season was highlighted by the one thousand points compiled by Bob Siekmann in his four years at Oak Hills. The class' spirit mounted, reaching a climax in their senior year. The "Turtles," an organization originated by the boys to promote school spirit, outdid everyone with their creation of the "Sixth Man," an idea to be carried on in the future. The graduating class also upholds an outstanding academic record, including three National Merit Scholars and a first place in the Ohio Test of Scholastic Achievement for English by Penny Pittman. In the past four years at Oak Hills a pattern of life has been established which will affect their future. Working united on the Prom and their ambitious participation in clubs, Seniors have proved they have true spirit.

As this school year comes to an end another step in the pattern of life has been completed. We look forward with anticipation to whatever the future holds for us, challenging the world as we enter it. Yet there are times when we glance back, briefly remembering and reliving the year — its joys and its sorrows. Wonderful things have happened during the 1968—1969 school year and I hope the Caledonian Staff has sufficiently recaptured those moments that made this year what it was.

Without many hours of devoted work this book could not have been published. Thus the Staff would like to give special thanks to the following:

To Mr. Sweeder and the entire faculty for their patience and cooperation on "picture-taking" days.

To Mr. Obermeyer, our Advisor, whose advice and guidance were invaluable to the production of the book.

To Mr. Wolf, the Business Advisor, whose efforts made the book financially possible.

To the American Yearbook Company for printing the book.

To Osborne Studio and school photographer Doug Crockett for their services in excellent picture-taking.

To the editors for all the sections and their staffs for the endless hours of work.

A tree, the world —
A leaf, Oak Hills.
The stem is hours of classes
And study . . . every schoolday of the year.
The veins, after school clubs and activities.
All are composed of atoms,
Students and teachers
Supporting the structure . . .
Individuals . . . and intricate in themselves.
The leaf as a whole
Is like one large design
A unique pattern . . .
A design never created before
And never to be duplicated . . .
Is now
The year of 1968-69.
